Eloquent Tributes Paid to Memory of Lee

Representatives Upshaw of Georgia and Lanham of Texas Principal Speakers at R. E. Lee Camp Banquet

WILSON'S NAME BRINGS APPLAUSE

Short Addresses Made by Capt. Fountain Beattie, Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester and H. Noel Garner—Lee's Farewell Address by Adjutant Edgar Warfield—Invocation by Rev. Dr. J. W. Duffey—Commander J. R. Zimmerman Presides.

"No man or woman can read the story of Robert E. Lee without marveling at his wonderful personality; without communing with those ideals; Thank God for those ideals." thus spoke Representative W. D. Upshaw, of Georgia, at the annual banquet of R. E. Lee Camp Confederate Veterans held last night in Lee Camp Hall in observance of the birth day of Gen. Robert E. Lee.

Continuing the speaker said: "Lee was not only knightly as a soldier, not only devout as a Christian man, but this birthday dinner would lose its memory if it did not bring personal responsibility of citzenship. Helping as a citizen teacher he lived the life of the picturesque citizen, for he taught the young men that citizenship that does not produce loyalty is not citizenship that is worth while. All of my loyalty to the United States cannot make me forget my reverence for which R. E. Lee fought and Stonewall Jackson fell."

The speaker told of an address he delivered at Carnegie Hall, New York, during the world war in which he told the northern crowd the great men that the south had produced during the previous wars up to the present time. The name of Woodrow Wilson caused great applause.

A tribute to the women for keeping alive the memory of Gen. Lee was paid by Representative Upshaw.

He said he could not help but pay passing tribute to the women who have given glorious crystallization to the glory of the Confederate Veterans and he also paid a compliment to Lee Camp for having turned over its home to the women. Representative Upshaw said he thought that the celebration of the birthday of Gen. Lee is only an emphasis of the fact that the sons and daughters who followed Lee is an effort to keep alive the memories of the past for which he added, "Thank God we are not ashamed."

In opening his address Representative Upshaw took occasion to pay a high compliment to Representative R. Walton Moore who he said during his short stay in Congress has made a reputation for himself and he said he would thank Representative Moore for the honor conferred upon him by inviting him to be present at this banquet.

Representative S. G. Lanham, of Texas, was the next speaker. Mr. Lanham said in part: "This is a historic spot where since the beginning of history giants have walked upon the streets. Texas and Virginia have much in common heritage. Robert E. Lee for a time was in the shadow of the Alamo. Lee appreciated the sancity of the hallowed association of the Alamo. He must have gotten inspiration from it. I am proud to come to the state that boasts of Washington and Lee. I am glad that in his fair state their names are linked with education."

"Our thoughts of Lee first should be directed to his military character. He did not enter the Confederacy for his own glory. Though the federal states offered quicker method of fame he could not have pence of conscience of mind without becoming one of the mass of southern men. The federal dream that the soldiers of the south would be conquered proved a nightmare." Speaker told of the beautiful tribute paid to Gen Lee by Theodore Roosevelt in a book written by Roosevelt and which he said it was set forth that the world has never seen better soldiers than those who followed Lee and their leader will rank first among all that that the world has brought forth.

Referring to some of General Lee's habits the speaker declared that the general on one occasion had said the day had never passed when he failed to pray for his enemies. Mr. Lanham asserted that the men who followed Lee are working for the progress and advancement of a united country.

Woman, he asserted, is rapidly coming to dominate our civilization. He said he was glad to see in the world war that the ladies of the south showed their patriotism in order that the stars and stripes might be victorious.

Capt. Fountain Beattie gave a number of interesting war reminiscenses and a short talk was made by Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester and H. Noel Garner responded to the toast "Sons of Veterans."

The assemblage was called to order by Commander John R. Zimmerman who presided and introduced the speaker. Invocation was delivered by Rv. Dr. J. W. Duffey, chaplain of the post, who now resides in Rockville, Md.

Adjutant Edgar Warfield read Gen. Lee's farewell address. Mr. Warfield said the paper he read from was a copy of the original made at Appomattox and that the original is now in the hands of the family of Charles Marshall in Baltimore.

The banquet was one of the most successful ever given by the camp and was attended by more than 100 guests. There were few of the old veterans present, time having laid a heavy hand on their ranks. The majority of those attending were sons of veterans.

The banquet was without doubt one of the best ever served this camp by the United Daughters of the Confederacy. The menu was excellent and the ladies were most attentive and saw that evervone present enjoyed themselves at the festive board.

The spacious parlors of the camp were gaily decorated, being bathed in Confederate colors and the state flag. The tables were also prettily decorated and there were carnations for each guest. Prior to the calling of the assemblage to the banquet hall there was music on the piano.

The menu served follows:

Roast Turkey — Fried Oysters
Virginia Ham
Cranberry Sauce
Chicken Salad — Cold Slaw
Olives — Pickles — Celery
Banquet Rolls — Hot Biscuits
Fruits
Bananas — Oranges — Malaga Granes
Ice Cream — Cake
Cigars — Punch

Adjutant Edgar Warfield announced that Representative R. Walton Moore, of the Eighth district, had sent his regrets at his inability to attend owing to the fact that he had a previous engagement in Baltimore.

Takes Son Home

Henry R. Silleck Does Not Recognize Father

Elbert A. Silleck, Greenwich, Conn., hotel proprietor, today conveyed his son, Henry Robert Silleck back to that city. The father arrived at the Alexandria Hospital last night and identified his son. The son, however, did not recognize the father and neither did the son recognize him today.

Hospital attendants declare that the father says that he attributes his son's loss of memory to the fact that several months ago his son suffered a fracture of the skull.

Silleck who is about thirty years old, came to the hospital Monday and could not remember his name or where he hailed from. He was identified through finger prints by J. Herbert Taylor, chief of identification bureau of the Navy Department, who lives in this city.

Lowery to Speak

Faracas have arranged to Have Representative Lowery to Address Banquet

Through the efforts of Representative R. Walton Moore, the entertainment committee of the Baraca Bible Class has arranged to have Representative B. G. Lowery, of Mississippi, address the members of the class at the seventh annual banquet which will be held in the Westminster Building next Tuesday evening.

Mr. Lowery is one of the most influential and prominent men in the Baptist Church of the South. He is a son of General M. P. Lowery, who served in the Confederate Army; a graduate of Mississippi College and thereafter attended Tulane University, and during most of his active life has belonged to the faculty of Blue Mountain College, of Mississippi, as its Vice-President, President, and professor of English.

A fine program of local talent has also been arranged. All members of the class are expected to be present at this banquet.

Newport News—There are 2,500 women voters in Newport News, according to the list which has just been compiled by the city treasurer and turned over to the printer. Nineteen hundred of this number are white women and 600 colored. This brings the total number of voters in the city up to 7,000 or more, the largest in the history of the city.

ALL CHINESE CLAIMS TO BE MADE PUBLIC

Proposal of Secretary Hughes to List Foreign Concessions Agreed to

RAIL RESOLUTIONS

American Delegate Warmly Defends The Dropping of Article IV By the Committee.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Under a proposal made in the Far Eastern Committee today by Secretary Hughes and substantially agreed to by delegates of other powers, this much will be done in the Conference regarding existing concessions in China—all claims of any sort, upon which the powers rely, will be listed with Secretary-General Garrett.

Mr. Hughes believes the listing and publication of such engagements will automatically eliminate the ones that have no basis and will pave the way for adjustment of those that are in unsatisfactory form for any reason, such as conflict with other engagements. His thought is that the listing of all that are regarded by the powers as having standing will turn on the light and help materially toward removing injustice and friction.

The Chinese, through Dr. Wellington Koo, made known a desire that after the engagements have been listed their validity be examined and that then they be made to harmonize with each other and with the principles adopted by the committee. The plea was in line with the section of the Chinese 10 points, presented soon after the Conference met, which called for declaration of all engagements affecting China, under penalty of forfeiture for failure to do so, and for examination and adjustment.

Dr. Koo's plea today was given no encouragement in the committee. After the meeting, one of the American delegates explained that it was not intended to take up and examine each engagement reported. He indicated that any necessary steps to review engagements listed could be taken by laying such engagements before the International Board of Reference, provided in the Hughes open-door resolution adopted yesterday, or by such other means as seemed appropriate to the powers concerned.

Other steps taken today in the Far Eastern Committee were adoption of the Geddes and Hughes' railroad resolutions, to both of which China agreed.

Under the Geddes resolution, China undertakes to allow no discrimination as between powers and their nationals on its railroads, and the other powers undertake the same obligation on railroads over which they or their nationals have control. That will be a part of the open-door convention and is held to be necessary to carry out the open-door principle. The Hughes resolution expresses the hope that China will unify its results in a great system under control of the Government.

IN CONGRESS YESTERDAY

SENATE

Threats of introducing a resolution to abolish the joint congressional committee appointed to reorganize the government departments because of inaction, were made by Democrats, Senator Harrison of Mississippi blaming the administration for delay and Senator Smoot of Utah, explaining that no meeting of the committee had been called since its appointment nearly a year ago.

A resolution declaring it to be the sense of the Senate that the president should withdraw the American forces in Haiti and San Domingo, was introduced by Senator King, Utah.

By a vote of 22 to 8, Republican leaders amended the foreign loan bill so as to require debtor nations to pay interest on the $10,000,000,000 American loans at a rate of interest not lower than the interest on Liberty bonds of this country, and agreed to call the bill up for action Monday.

Dr. Harris Hart, superintendent of schools in Virginia, spoke before the Joint committee investigating Washington school conditions, urging among other changes extension of the playgrounds.

George Yarbrough, a teacher of Alabama, told the committee investigating the alleged abuse of American soldiers in France that he witnessed the execution of a soldier by a firing squad near Chauteau-Thierry. War department witnesses had informed the committee that no executions by shooting had occurred.

The Finance committee began consideration of specific rates in the chemical schedule of the tariff bill.

Senators Cummins, Iowa; Robinson, Arkansas, and others spoke on the bill providing for interchangeable mileage rates among railroads.

A resolution by Senator Robinson calling for a Senate investigation of charges that official influences are interfering with the civil service, was adopted.

Senators Ball and Johnson of the District committee introduced bills providing half fare on the street cars for school children.

Senator Trammell, Florida, offered a resolution requiring the Interstate Commerce commission to investigate High express rates on citrus fruits and other products.

HOUSE

Replying to charges of Chairman Fordney of the Ways and Means committee that a big Chicago concern made profits amounting to over 2,000 per cent, Representative Mann of Illinois said the firm in question made only 2.39 per cent. net profits in 1920.

In a letter to Speaker Gillette, President Harding asked for an appropriation of $100,000 for additional employees of the civil service committee, to investigate the character and training of applicants for government positions. He asked also for increased salaries for three members of the civil service commission.

Representative Thomas of Kentucky introduced a bill asking $500,000 for relief of unemployed and destitute coal miners in America.

NEW "Y" CLASS

Course in Shakespeare For Men and Women

"A Critical Study of Shakespeare" is the subject of a new course to be given by the "Y" during the second term which opens February first. This class will be open both to men and women and will be taught by one of Alexandria's most thorough students of Shakespeare, Mr. David Jones. The "Y" considers itself especially fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mr. Jones as instructor and thereby offering an opportunity to Alexandria's Shakespeare lovers, to pursue a course which promises to be so full of interest and fascination. Already about twenty have signified their intention of joining the class. It is hoped, however, that this number may be largely increased before the date of the opening lesson, which will be Friday evening, February 3, as the rate for instruction will be proportionately less according to the number enrolled. The fee will be not more than $2.50 for the course with an enrollment of twenty. A larger enrollment will decrease the fee.

The object of the course will be to gain a deeper insight and appreciation of the genius of Shakespeare, and his influence on English and American literature. The lecture method will be pursued, and it is honed that each student will use a note book, although this will not be required. The outline of the course is as follows:

1. Biography, with special stress on political and economical conditions of the Elizabethan era.
2. General Survey of works.
3. Sonnets and poems.
4. Study of a Comedy: As You Like It."
5. Semi-Tragedy: "The Merchant of Venice."
Tragedy: "Hamlet."
7. Women of Shakespeare.
8. Types of Men in Shakespeare.
(a.) The philosopher, Prospero and Hamlet.
(b.) The soldier, Henry V. and Hotspur.
(c.) The statesman, Warwick and Wolsey.
(d.) The man of the World, Antonio and Iago.
9. Shakespeare on Love.
10. Shakespeare as Forerunner on Modern Philosophy and Science.

It is also planned, at the close of the course of fifteen lessons, to give a dramatic evening, with scenes from the plays, and the songs of Shakespeare, to which the public will be admitted.

Enroll at the Y. M. C. A. office now. The first lesson will be given at the Chamber of Commerce, Friday evening, February 3, at 7:30 p. m.

COAL MINERS WILL STRIKE SAYS HOOVER

Issues Warning to Public of Walkout About End of March

THINKS IT CERTAIN

Will be Fight For Life For Unions—Operators Planning to Fight to Finish.

Washington, Jan. 19.—"A strike in the bituminous coal fields beginning March 31 appears to be inevitable," said Secretary of Commerce Hoover today.

The Administration, after conferences with representative operators and leaders of the mine workers, perceives no feasible means of averting the threatened strike, if the union persists in demanding a renewal of the present wage terms.

As in the case of the bituminous fields, the contracts of the anthracite workers expire March 31, and a strike of the hard coal miners is also a possibility. Increased wages are being demanded by some of the organizations in the anthracite fields.

If the United Mine Workers strike, they will be plunged into a life-and-death struggle for the preservation of their union. The operators of unionized mines positively assert that they will not renew the present wage contracts and that they cannot continue to operate except on the basis of a lower wage scale. They will endeavor to operate with non-union workers, however, if the strike materializes.

Many operators of union mines assert that if the union rejects a decrease in wages they will deunionize their mines and close down if they find it impossible to operate on a non-union basis. They say that the union miners cannot continue to compete with nonunion and will be compelled to close, in any event, unless wages are reduced.

According to the operators, about 30 per cent. of the bituminous mines are nonunion. Wages are lower in the nonunion mines and employment is steadier. The nonunion undersells the union product and hundreds of union mines already have been closed as a result of this competition, it is asserted.

Reports to the Department of Commerce indicate that business generally is preparing for a protracted mine strike. Stocks of coal are being stored and penalty clauses in business contracts are being made nonenforceable in the event of impairment of transportation or production facilities by a coal strike.

The Administration believes, however, that with reserve stocks of coal and 30 or 40 per cent, of the mines operating with nonunion workers there will be no danger of a railroad tie-up or even of reduced rail facilities for several months after the calling of a strike.

Secretary Hoover's committee of operators and consumers is continuing its study of the coal problem with a view to recommending a permanent stabilization of the industry. It appears that the industry is from 30 to 40 per cent. overdeveloped. As a result the average employment of mine workers is only 180 days a year. This produces an inferior scale of living for the mine worker, a highly speculative industry for the operators and unduly high prices for the consumer.

Kiwanis Luncheon

At the weekly luncheon yesterday afternoon of the Kiwanis Club an address on Gen. Robert E. Lee was delivered by J. Randall Caton, Jr. The luncheon was largely attended. Boost prizes were distributed by Chester A. Gwinn and U. S. Lambert presided.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Washington Jan. 20.—Representative Andrew J. Volstead, of Minnesota, author of the Prohibition law, has received hundreds of letters within the past week or ten days, some classifying him as a "murderer,' others as "assassin," and still others sent anonymously, threatening his life.

It appears that every time the report of a wood alcohol victim is announced, Volstead is the centre of attack from the community in which the victim resided. He is held directly responsible for the death of the poison victim.

Up to date, however, Volstead has not seen fit to call the attention of the Department of Justice to such missives received by him nor to ask that the Secret Service division detail a man to protect him against possible bodily harm. But his life just now is not a very happy one and he is being made the target at which all the dissatisfied elements with prohibition enforcement are concentrating their attacks.

Decision of the Republican caucus to pass the foreign debt funding bill and then the bonus bill reveals that the bonus bill is virtually the white elephant of Congress, giving rise to troublesome and vexatious problems of taxation that in the opinion of many leaders, will cause serious losses for the Republican in the next election. The Republican leaders do not conceal the fact that they do not know where the money for the bonus is to come from. They exhausted in the recent revenue law all the men available means of taxation and are now confronted with the necessity of raising much more revenue. Imposition of a sales tax, on top of the present taxes, or of any kind of internal tax would cause a veritable storm of protest, and the Republicans are at their wits end to know how to avoid it.

In the meantime, the Democrats are standing by and taking advantage of the situation in which their Republican brethren find themselves. The people of the country will hold the party in power responsible for the mistakes that are sure to follow any move for the raising of the money to pay the soldiers' bonus.

On the authority of a member of the Cabinet much interested in the subject, it is learned that the present disposition of the Harding administration is to have this government represented by an adequate delegation at the forthcoming Genoa conference. A decision to reject the invitation it was declared, can only be reached in the event that satisfactory assurances are not received that European political questions are strict ly barred from the conference agenda. This government does not object to a discussion of war debts at the conference. What this government does not want to do is to enter a conference that will make us responsible for payment of German reparations. It wants to avoid political considerations entirely.

A further conference was held today between Earl Lang, the German Charge d'Affaire and Thomas W. Miller, Alien Property Custodian. At this meeting the German Embassy on S street known as the "Widow's Mite" was formally released by the Alien Property Custodian and turned over to the German Charge representing the German government, who at the same time was handed the deed restoring the property. This piece of land was the one bought by the German government before the war for the purpose of erecting a new Embassy, which plans were stopped by the war.

The Alien Property Custodian was also in conference with the Counselor of the Hungarian legation, recently reestablished in Washington, at which time the Hungarian property seized under the Trading with the Enemy Act was discussed.

John Sharp Williams Senator from the State of Mississippi, and regarded as the most brilliant man in that body, is going to retire to his farm in Yazoo City, after his present term expires on March 4, 1923. He announced three years ago that he would not be a candidate for re-election and he intends to stick to this decision. His presence and his ability will be missed in the Senate when he leaves the body.

Petersburg—The police today revealed one of the most daring house robberies committed in this city in several years—that of a negro woman's house on Jones Street in daylight yesterday afternoon.

To gain an entrance to the house the thief broke down the partition wall of a double tenement house while the occupants were away. The house was ransacked and the burglar made off with loot valued at nearly $400, including clothing, a diamond ring, jewelry and other articles.

Richmond—Major-General Charles G. Morton, U. S. A., who trained and commanded the Twenty-ninth Division, which included National Guard units of Virginia, will be the guest of Richmond Light Infantry Blues today, the birthday of General Robert E. Lee, the South's mighty war chief and great military genius of his age.

SENATE CAUCUS APPROVES THE REFUND BILL

Indorse Act Providing For Allied Debt With 4 3-4 Per Cent Interest

BONUS BILL FOLLOWS

Amendment Offered by Senator France to Leave Matter in President's Hands is Lost

Washington, Jan. 19.—Senate Republicans, in party conference, approved today the Allied Debt Refunding bill, with the addition of a provision that the interest rate on the refunded bonds should be not less than that fixed in the Liberty Loan acts authorized in the loans to the Allied nations.

This rate is 4 3-4 per cent., or 1-4 of 1 per cent. less than the rate stipulated in the obligations of the debtor nations now held by the Treasury.

This was the only change in the bill as reported by the Finance Committee. It was announced that the vote on the added provision was 22 to 8, and was taken after the conference had voted down, 24 to 14, an amendment by Senator Smoot, of Utah, that the commission which is to conduct the refunding negotiations should not have the right to fix a rate of interest at less than 5 per cent.

Party leaders said it was the plan to take the bill up in the Senate on Monday and to press for its passage, the amended measure having been formally approved by the conference.

The Republicans already have voted to take up a Soldier Bonus bill as soon as the refunding measure is disposed of. It was said there would be further party conferences to determine a policy as to the method of raising the necessary funds to finance the bonus.

There were two conferences today, with many changes in the Refunding bill suggested, but not approved.

A motion by Senator Frazer, of Maryland, to strike out the provision for a commission and to confer the entire authority on the President was defeated, it was announced, by a vote of 31 to 7.

It also was stated that a motion by Senator Phipps, of Colorado, to strike out the requirement that the bonds mature not later than June 15, 1947, was defeated, 32 to 5.

Another motion lost was by Senator Harreld, of Oklahoma, which would have provided that the payment of interest on the bonds be deferred for a period of not more than three years.

Immediate action by the House on a Soldier Bonus bill was demanded by Republican members who formerly were in the military service.

The former service men at a conference decided to seek a caucus of the entire Republican membership next Wednesday night, at which it is planned to submit a resolution instructing the Ways and Means Committee to immediately present to the House an adjusted compensation bill.

Once reported the Bonus bill would be kept before the House until a final vote was reached, according to the plan of members attending the conference.

A statement issued by Representative Fish, of New York, and Representative Johnson, of South Dakota, both of whom saw service in France, declared that former service members have become "exasperated over the delay in the passage of an adjusted compensation law."

At the theatres today: the Richmond is showing "The Heart of the North," a picture full of the thrills of the great Northwest where the men are men and will die for the women they love. The Ingomar will start a new serial "White Eagle" and is offering an Indian hat to the first one hundred children who purchase tickets to this great serial, also Tom Mix will play in "After Your Own Heart" The Idle Hour is showing Neal Hart's newest picture, "God's Gold."

Through a misunderstanding the Gazette published a notice last week that "A meeting of the Travelers' Protective Association would be held on Saturday, January 14," when, in fact, this meeting had been postponed a week and is to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow night, January 21. At this meeting, the president of the local branch, J. William May, is anxious to have as many of the members as possible present as it is expected that J. S. Oliver, chairman of the State Press Committee, will be present to make an address.

Richmond—The first entertainment of the Virginia Historical Pageant Association scheduled for John Marshall High School auditorium tomorrow night, has been postponed one week because of the inadequacy of transportation facilities, it was announced last night.

SOLDIER BONUS SEPARATE BILL

Chairman Fordney Consents to Divorce it From Debt Bill

Leaders of Party Hope to Finance Measure From Allied Bonds

Washington, Jan. 18.—A compromise has been reached between the White House and the Capitol upon the question of soldier bonus-debt refunding legislation. The outstanding terms are:

Passage of a soldier bonus bill along the broad lines of that already adopted in the House without any reference to foreign indebtedness.

Postponement of action on new taxation as a means of meeting the bonus payments until it can be learned whether or not those payments can be met out of collections from abroad or from the proceeds of the sale of refunded foreign bond issues.

Information regarding this compromise came from the most authoritative sources this afternoon following a conference between President Harding and Chairman Fordney, of the House Ways and Means Committee, at the latter's residence.

Each side, it is stated, found it necessary to make concessions to avoid a clash between the President and Congress. The Congressional leaders will not tie up bonus legislation with the Refunding bill, which is in line with the ultimatum delivered by Mr. Harding. He had given notice privately that he would veto a bonus bill which had been consolidated with that providing for refunding.

The President will not insist literally that the bonus bill provide on its face for raising the money to cover the deferred compensation payments, it is stated further, notwithstanding his demand to the contrary of a few days ago. This is a victory for the legislators.

The President, it seems, has become convinced that it would be worse politics to lay a fresh tax burden upon the country for the purpose of raising soldier-bonus money than it would be to scrap the bonus legislation altogether. The support to be lost through resentment against higher taxes, he has been told, would be more serious than that which would result from soldier dissatisfaction.

Even so, it appears, Mr. Harding insists that bonus legislation, if it is passed at all, must be in good faith; that the former service men be not given an empty promise, and that Congress must be prepared to raise the bonus money by taxes if it cannot be raised in any other way.

They heard, too, the great organ and sang, "Silent Night," and "America," their sweet young voices making rare music in the old church already so filled with echoes of the past. FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

Frank Michelbach, Says We Must Have Faith In Alexandria

Improvement of Streets One of the Most Important Works Required He Says

Faith is a big factor in the building of a Greater Alexandria. At least that is the opinion of Frank Michelbach, furniture store proprietor, when talking of a Greater Alexandria with the Gazette's reporter. Mr. Michelbach says further that:—

"I have been living in this city for something over twenty years and always I have had faith in the city and have endeavored to show that faith by my works You know that 'Faith without works is dead.' I knew at first that Alexandria had possibilities and since that time she has made wonderful strides forward in the business world. I have been working hard for my own business in the past twenty years and I am proud to say that I have done something toward making the city as good as it is today. I still have faith in the future of my city and am still working.

"I have seen many of our streets transformed from old cobble stone roads to modern asphalted thoroughfares in my residence here and before I leave I hope to see many more such transformations. The improvement of our city streets does not require the output of much money as already they have the finest foundation that could be wished for; these old cobble stone streets will never sink another inch and all required to put the street into the finest of condition is the application of a coat of asphalt to fill the space between the stones.

"Some will ask why repair the streets? what good will that do? Take a ride with me out North Washington street and I will show you. Here at the corporation limits you may see how bad the Washington Boulevard becomes. It narrows so as to hardly allow two cars to pass, and is so rough that you can scarcely hold your seat in the car while riding over it. Now over there on the north is the plant of the Fruit Growers Express employing several hundred men, which brings into our city thousands of dollars annually. Is the city giving this plant support it should? It is to our advantage to keep this company here yet we do not even provide walks for its employees to travel upon going and coming from work. Ride back down North Henry street through all this mud and slush in which this touring car has to go into second gear in order to travel at all. This is the road over which the products have to be transported from the vinegar factory and from the Hoge Mill. When we get an industry here we do not let it stay for the lack of support. This fairly decent little road to the right was put in by the Hoge Company so that they might get to and from their warehouse without getting their trucks mired in the mud.

"Look at the Old Dominion Glass works—a company which has poured thousands of dollars into our city—look at the roads over which they have to haul their products. In my opinion we should encourage all the little industries and make them as nearly satisfied with their locations as possible.

"Now, back to my own business. I try to give everyone the best service and the best prices on the goods which I sell. This is the secret of business in this city as well as elsewhere. Do not let your customer go away dissatisfied. I try to make things so pleasant for my customers that they are obliged to come and buy from me again. My business is reaching out in Washington because I can sell cheaper than the Washington merchants—any Alexandria merchant can do the same thing—we haven't the overhead expense.

"Now as I see it we must have faith in our city and show it by our works; strive to make our business the best. If each and every one of us could do this; improve ourselves—many such little improvements—and our city would go forging ahead in every way. We need to work together and have faith in our city and in each other and show that faith by our works."

Protest on Treatment

Trolley Employees Kick on Drastic Rules Carried Out

A delegation of conductors and motormen employed by the Washington-Virginia Railway Company this morning waited on Attorney Gardner L. Boothe, local attorney for the company and protested to him regarding the treatment of the men by that company.

The men set forth to Mr. Boothe that they had been suspended for a period of from three to ten years for alleged infractions of certain rules and this worked a great hardship on them. Mr. Boothe promised they said to at once take up the matter with the directors of the company and endeavor to have their alleged greivances speedily adjusted.

Own Your Own Home

Start to Own It Today by Starting to Save for It Today.

No man knows the thrill of proud possession until he acquires his own house.

You handle the doorknob more gently, you cross the threshold with a reverence for all that home means, and you feel the manhood of having done what a real man should do, when you provide your family with a home to which you hold title.

Is This Fair?

Can you, as a right-thinking man, be comfortable, having the thought that you have provided shelter for your family for ONLY THIRTY DAYS AHEAD?

Face this indictment, you men who rent homes: You are providing your family with shelter only so long as you yourself need it. It is your duty to provide shelter, not just for your lifetime but for your family's lifetime.

Are you one of the legion of men who are going to buy a home when they make more money? Don't fool yourself. If you go as you are going, you will only be paying more rent when that time comes.

Get Facts and Figures

If you have a little money saved up, get in touch with your local building and loan association or a reliable real estate man. If you haven't enough to start building or to make the first payment, get busy at once. Lay the foundation for it by putting every dollar you can spare into a savings bank.

It is estimated that most people spend about one-fourth of their salaries for rent, and with the present scarcity of houses, it is running close to 50 per cent with a lot of wage earners.

Are you going to hand twenty-five cents out of every dollar you make over to a stranger the rest of your life? As a red-blooded American, you are not! You are going to "go over the top" on this thing.

Every Dollar a Foundation Stone.

Start your home savings account right now. Start with one dollar, if that is all you have to start with but start NOW.

Give yourself this "own your home" spur to ambition.

Give your family the joy, the happiness, the respectability, that go with living in a self-owned home.

Unlike the sun, moon and planets, each star rises always at practically the same point in the heavens.

The most appalling accident in history was the falling of an amphitheater in Rome in the time of Tiberius. Fifty thousand people were crushed.

Ce-re-a-lia Sweets

SEE-REE-ALE-YA

It Pays
To Please Your Cows

The best feed in the world won't produce milk if your cows turn their nose away from it. Cows munch the last morsel of Ce-re-a-lia Sweets, not because of its "high protein" or its "guaranteed analysis", but because it tastes good. We could make up a ration with exactly the same percentages of protein, carbohydrates and fat without such a large pleasing variety of ingredients, without including appetizing molasses, but your cows would digest less, tire of its sameness, give less milk. Ce-re-a-lia won't lump or cake. Easy to handle. If you're feeding home-grown ground corn this year, feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets along with it. Use the usual roughage.

Four Weeks' Trial At Our Risk

Feed one cow 4 weeks on Ce-re-a-lia Sweets and make us prove these two points: First, that you will get more milk or better milk. Second, that your actual profit will be greater; if Ce-re-a-lia costs more than you're paying now, the improvement in flow or test must more than make it up. Money back if either test fails. Ask us for details.

NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK

Tomorrow closes the first National Thrift Week. It has been observed all over the country and the newspapers have given it the widest publicity. The Gazette has given due prominence to the occasion in its columns and believes that Alexandria will be benefited in no small degree by the inculcation of the spirit of thrift among its younger people.

Thrift does not mean stinginess or miserliness or the simple hoarding of money. It has a much larger significance. It means good wholesome food, substantial clothes, books, music in the family, life and fire insurance, owning your own home, and, just as important, money in the bank. Thrift is the main element in success in any calling. It spells economy and the elimination of extravagance. It establishes credit in the community, and that means reputation, character. Remember what J. Pierpont Morgan said on the witness stand: "I have known a man to come into my office and I have given him a check for a million dollars, and I knew he had not a cent in the world. . . . . Character is before money or property or anything else. Money cannot buy it." Unless we are mistaken, the evidence of the lessons learned during this important week will be visible not once, but many times during the rest of the year in our home city.

WHAT ONE MAN BELIEVES

We call attention to the interview given our reporter by Frank Michelbach. Mr Michelbach is one of our most successful merchants and his words are well worthy attention. He has faith in his community. He believes in all of the things set forth daily in the Gazette as needed for Greater Alexandria. He believes that each man in working untiringly for his own success, and devoting his energies to his own business, will thereby contribute that much more to the general upbuilding of the city. True! A city of successful men means a thriving and successful municipality. We are glad to give Mr. Michelbach's views to our readers as he is a living example of their practical wisdom.

THE CRIME WAVE

(For The Gazette)

In the halcyon days of old
When the pioneer so bold,
Was sifting shining gold
From the western Rocky Mountain's good pay dirt,
Occasionally a bandit
Would come along and hand it
To an innocent old miner who with death presumed to flirt.

In those good old days of yore
When the stage coach only bore,
From a dozen to a score,
Across the sandy desert once a week,
Sometimes a swift marauding band
Would come sweeping 'cross the land,
With their tomahawks in hand,
And scalp a "Tenderfoot" or two, just to hear the fellow squeak.

In that semi-peaceful time
When the "West" was in its prime,
Frequently a "Bad Man," just to have a little fun,
Would come cantering into town,
Shoot the old place up, and down,
Just to see the unsuspecting drop their anecdotes and run.

In the days of these "Old Gents,"
And these seeming "sad events,"
Were only little incidents—
Only little ripples on the rolling swelling tide,
They had no written law,
But the fellow "Over Taw,"
Was sure to suffer from a puncture—in his hide.

All those "Halcyon days" are gone,
But the ripple's rippled on
Till a mighty wave it's grown,
Carrying death and dire destruction on its crest,
All the "fiery fiends of hell"
Now seem riding on this swell
Defying law as well
As daring man its restless power to breast.

Can't we 'swage this swelling tide,
Can't we 'swade it to subside
Till we all may safely ride
And navigate a calm and peaceful sea once more?)
From Atlantic to Pacific,
Now we hear the noise terrific
Of its breakers piling wreckage on the shore.

From the north part of Ohio
Clear down to the raging Rio,
Comes the booming and the barking of the gun.
Yes, there's murder in the air,
It nearly fills us with despair
Seeing bloodshed everywhere.
Shooting, looting—from the setting to the rising of the sun.

There's a murder in Seattle,
In Atlanta there's a battle,
And we hear the rasping rattle
Of the dirks and automatics out in ancient Santa Fe.

There's a hold-up down in Austin,
Half a dozen up in Boston
While "there's something going on" in every town in Tennessee.

New York, Cleveland and Chicago,
Each supplies a daily cargo
Of scandaliferous copy for the ravenous "yellow sheet,"
While Washington and "Cincy,"
New Orleans and Quincy
For erstwhile quiet burgs are hard to beat.

In all the morning papers
One may read of all the capers
That "Satan's Imps" did cut the day before,
And the "scooping" Evening Journal
Tells of capers more infernal—
For they caper in the night time even more.

Whence comes this awful ravage?
Worse than deed of barbarous savage,
Worse than war with all its sad consequence
War, with all of its abuses,
Hath some reasons or excuses,
But here man's murdered without chance of least defence.

While the nation's heart was bleeding,
In the war years next preceding
This present cruel aggravated time,
All the laws of man and God,
Under foot too much were trod,
And too little heeded we the coming of this "Wave of Crime."

Too late now for vain regretting,
No use now for feverish fretting,
No excuse for our abetting,
But serious cause to try to check these maniacs in their mad career,
Let Churches pray and preach,
The Press not cease to teach,
Nor fail the Law to reach
Out its strong arm and chain these "Hell Fiends" in their sulphurous bier.

RETAIL CREDIT MEN'S NATIONAL ASSN. ORGANIZED 1912

PAY YOUR BILLS PROMPTLY
Saturday January 21st is Pay Your Bills Promptly Day Of National Thrift Week

This Advertisement is not directed to those who understandingly and intelligently use their credit, but rather to those who habitually and flagrantly abuse it.

If you work for pay you are "in business for yourself." Your stock in trade is "Service." This you sell to your employer. As long as he continues to pay you on a certain date his CREDIT with you is good. But should he FAIL TO PAY, you would be justified in severing relations with him at once.

The merchant to whom you owe last month's bill is your employee. If you have thoughtlessly neglected his PAY DAY, isn't he justified in declining to deliver to your home more merchandise?

How is the merchant to continue to give YOU service on merchandise if he hasn't the money to KEEP UP? You couldn't continue to give service to your employer if he neglected YOUR PAY DAY, could you?

And then there is another very important point you must REMEMBER. If the entire community is prosperous, there are more jobs, more places for you to sell your services. In times of stress EVERY BUSINESS MAN is affected by POOR BUSINESS. Think it over—there is considerable food for thought—and this is the time for SERIOUS THINKING.

Insurance is the indispensable protector of posterity and prosperity. It will pay you to keep your CREDIT INSURED. The only premium required is the prompt discharge of your debts.
Make up Your Mind Today That You Will Pay Your Bills Promptly.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear brother, PRICIE De MASTERS, who departed this life two months ago yesterday:

Our dear little baby brother,
The one we loved so well
Has gone from this world to another,
To live in that Heavenly land.

His suffering was long and lasting,
But God helped him to bear it all,
And when his time had come to die,
He was ready to answer his call.

In the lone hours of the night
We could hear his moanful voice,
But when we saw him sinking fast
We knew God had made his choice.

We stood by him in his suffering
And prayed for him night and day
"Thy Will Be Done," Dear Lord.
All we can do, is to pray.

We prayed for our brother's recovery
For we did love him so well
But Jesus loved him still better
And took Pricie with him to dwell.

"My Heavenly Father, have mercy on me,"
We would often hear him say
Yet he never grew impatient,
But just continued to pray.

He wanted a litte prayer book,
We knew not the reason why
For he prayed continuously, from day to day,
Dear Father why did he die.

On the nineteenth day of November
About the mid hour of night,
When God called on our brother
To make that wonderful flight.

The night was dark and stormy
The rain was falling fast—
And Oh, how it grieved us,
To see brother breathing his last.

"Dear Thurston, I am dying"
Was his last and dying breath.
He looked up to Jesus with a smile,
And closed his eyes in death.

We carried him to the mountains.
Where our dear mother was laid,
And buried his body beside
In a cold and silent grave

By heart broken sisters and brother.

Baltimore, Jan. 5

CAPTAIN PAUL CUFFEE

Left this city yesterday on his way to the seat of government, Captain Cuffee, of N. Bedford, (Mass.) the celebrated African merchant and navigator. He was waited on, while here, by several gentlemen who were favorable to his mission, which is to proceed with a company of his countrymen to Sierra Leone, in Africa, for the purpose of instructing the colony in agriculture, commerce and the mechanic arts. He has a number of letters of introduction to members of the senate and house; and we hope he will meet with that attention which his respectability and the important object of his mission so justly demand.

ARMORY GAMES

Tonight at Armory Hall two basket ball games are scheduled, the first between the girls from the Friends Playgrounds and the lady's quint from Georgetown known as the Peck Athletic Club. The second game, between the Crystal A. C., a local aggregation, and the Avions from Washington, is expected to be a great game and this together with the battle between the girls will offer a bill that's only second to a professional game.

On Saturday night the local court will be the stage for one of the bitterest basketball battles ever played in Alexandria. This contest will be between Aexandria Light Infantry and Emanon A. C. of Washington. The latter has always played hard to win Virginia laurels and according to those who know, this game gives promise of all the thrills of a first-class exhibition.

Plans For Ball Season

At the January meeting of the Cardinal Athletic Club, held at the home of President Sylvester A. Breen, Tuesday evening considerable business relating to the success of the Cardinals during the 1922 base ball season was transacted.

Walter L. Disbrow was elected field manager. The Cardinals are fortunate in securing his services, as he has been associated with many semi-pro base ball clubs of Michigan and other Western States, and he is sure to improve the playing abilities of the young base ball players under his care.

Samuel B. De Vaughan, Jr., was elected business manager. He is a wide awake youngster, honest to the core. popular with the citizens of his native town, and no doubt will make a success of his new athletic managerial job with the Cardinals.

Many high class baseball players attended the meeting and they will play under the Cardinals colors. These lads pledged to give their best efforts at all times to win baseball games for their teams and at the same time entertain the base ball fans of Alexandria with exciting basball contests.

Joseph E. Owens, secretary and treasurer, has been reelected to the same position every year since 1910, and has always performed his duties in an able and honorable manner. He is one of the young men who established the Cardinal Athletic Club in the spring of the year 1907 and has held continuous membership in the oldest sandlot base ball club in America since that time. To Lawrence W. Corbett belongs the honor of naming the Cardinal Athletic Club. He was the regular third baseman on the team during its early days and played the "hot corner" in a most creditable and graceful manner.

The Cardinals will hold their next meeting Tuesday evening, February 21, 1922, at their headquarters, 1322 King street. A field captain will be elected and plans studied relating to laying out the diamond and making the necessary improvements at the new playing field. Everything will be done to please the Alexandria base ball fans during the 1922 season and the Cardinals will strive hard to merit the good will and patronage of every person who likes to see base ball games played in a clean and sportsman like way.

MEETINGS FOR MEN

Second of Series of Sunday Afternoon Meetings at Westminster Building

Ex-Sergeant William Scott will sing a duet with Mr. Allen F. Cook, at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Westminster Building. Mr. Cook will sing "Alone," accompanied by Mr. Scott. Both of these gentlemen have fine voices, and this will be a treat to men. This is the second meeting held for men by the Westminster Bible Class. The committee has some fine speakers engaged for the Sunday afternoon lectures. Next Sunday Hon. W. F. Stevenson M. C. of South Carolina will lecture on "The King James Version of the Bible and its Effect on English Language and Literature."

The committee wants it understood these meetings are undenominational, and all churches are requested to assist in the meetings and urge all men to come, as they hope the meeting will be both educational and helpful, and they want a large crowd of men to attend each Sunday afternoon.

Special music each Sunday. No collection. Bring a friend with you. Cards are out asking the public to come. The cards are simply given out so as to notify the public of the meetings, but it is not necessary to have a ticket. All men are welcome, and they will be made to feel at home at each and every meeting.

CALOMEL GOOD BUT AWFUL TREACHEROUS

Next Dose May Salivate, Shock Liver or Attack Your Bones

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangercus. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attack the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and it if doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

All in favor say "AYE!"

THEY'LL ALL VOTE FOR AUTH'S FRANKFURTERS

THE next time your little family group is gathered arcund the table, ask them which dish they prefer for dinner.

Then ask them why they named "Auth Frankfurters!" The young 'uns will say, because of their delightful flavor. The grown-ups will vouch that AUTH'S are more tasteful, more spicy, more wholesomely tender than any other kind!

GIRLS! USE LEMONS TO WHITEN HANDS

Press the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach lotion to soften and whiten red, rough or chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerin and rose water to smoothen the skin. Famous stage beauties use it to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy white complexion, because it doesn't irritate.

THE WOMAN OF POISE,

Once a rarity, is now to be observed and admired upon every hand. Indeed, no other woman can flourish long in the midst of this modern, complicated life. In the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident wins, while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, poise is dependent mainly upon sound health and steady nerves If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not turn to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was manufactured from a thorough understanding of the nervous system of women?

THE WOMAN WHO POISE,

and noble heartedness of the general are worthy of the highest commendation.

Several of the parents of the pupils called at the school during the past week and were very pleased with different classes which they visited.

As this is Wilson Week, the English classes of the different grades are working hard for the prize donated by a friend of the school, for the best essay "On Woodrow Wilson."

Several of the students are arranging a theatre party, to see the play entitled "Just Around the Corner" by Fannie Hurts, the faculty will accompany the students.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard, of Hartford Connecticut were the guests of the principal over the week end.

Through the courtesy of the student body a statue of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, will be placed in the corridor of the school, in recognition of the opening of the school three years ago this month.

FAIL TO FIND CAR

Second Rum Car Sought Today by the Police

The police this morning received a tip from Fredericksburg, Va., that a bootlegger's car heavily laden with corn whiskey was enroute toward this city. The police started out in pursuit of the car and all avenues at the entrance of the city were guarded for several hours but the suspected car failed to materialize. Police are of the opinion that the car may have detoured, or else is waiting till night fall before attempting to come through Alexandria with its cargo of wet goods which is supposed to be destined for Washington.

In the article published in The Gazette yesterday the names of Policemen Magner and Durrer were inadvertently omittd, these officers leading the chase on the bootleg car which escaped capture.

WAS ON VERGE OF A COLLAPSE ALL THE TIME

Pittsburgh Man's Nerves Were So Shattered He Got Little Sleep and Could Hardly Drag Home From Work.

Feels Good From Head to Feet, and Says He Will Never Forget What Tanlac Did For Him.

"I have gained back the twelve pounds weight I lost and six pounds more for good measure" was the characteristic statement made the other day by Frank E. Beall, of 115 Anderson St. Pittsburgh, Pa., in relating his experience with Tanlac.

"For four years my stomach was all out of fix, and my appetite was very poor. I had indigestion in its worst form, couldn't retain any solid food, and what little I did manage to eat seemed to do me no good. I had awful headaches and dizzy spells and was so weak I felt like I was on the verge of a collapse all the time. My nerves were so on edge all the time I couldn't half sleep. I was so worn out I could hardly drag home from my work at night, and I was getting worse all the time.

"However, a few bottles of Tanlac have rid me so completely of all my troubles that I feel like a new man from head to foot. My appetite can't be beat, and I 'put away' three good hearty meals every day of just anything I want without feeling a sign of indigestion. I sleep like a top at night and just feel fine all the time. I'll never forget what Tanlac has done for me."

Note—Tanlac Vegetable Pills are an essential and vitally important part of the Tanlac treatment. You cannot hope to get the most satisfactory results from Tanlac without first establishing a free and regular movement of the bowels. Tanlac Vegetable Pills are absolutely free from calomel and are sold on a positive guarantee to give satisfaction.

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, Jr., and leading druggists everywhere.

LIGHTING

The amount of light in a room and the direction from which it comes are extremely important from a physiological point of view, not only because of their effect upon the eyes themselves, but also on account of the reaction caused by eyestrain on the general health of the individual. Eyestrain is caused largely by three things: natural defects of the eye, most of which can be relieved by glasses, too prolonged use and insufficient or badly directed light.

Sometimes natural defects of the eye if taken in time, can be corrected by the use of glasses to the point of being permanently cured in later life. For this reason and also to prevent a slight defect from becoming serious, children's eyes should be examined when they first enter school and as often afterward as the oculist advises.

Prolonged use causes fatigue of the eyes, especially when the illumination is poor; within limits, the amount of light needed depends on the nature of the work. By poor illumination is meant not only too little light but too much, the wrong kind of light that comes from the wrong direction. Too much light is extremely harmful, and probably causes some of the defects, such as nausea and headache, commonly attributed to poor ventilation.

Light should come from the left side of right handed people, preferably over the left shoulder. If it comes from the right, the hand which is doing the work gets in its own light. Light should never come from the front because then it shines directly into the eyes and that is very injurious. Light reflected from snow and of the glazed white paper of books or any other bright surface is fatiguing from its intensity and from the unusual angle at which it enters the eyes. Other things that are very bad for the eyes are reading or working in the direct sunlight, by firelight or while lying down.

Care should be taken in the construction of every house and office building to provide for sufficient light of the right kind. Every room in a dwelling house should, if possible, have direct sunlight at some time during the day, and the lighting fixtures should be arranged in such relation to the furniture grouping as to give light from the right direction. Mothers should take every possible precaution to protect the eye sight of their children and should train the children themselves to take precautions so that when they grow up they will quite naturally seek good lighting conditions while using their eyes. Almost all blindness is preventable and there is surely no individual precaution that is too much if it will guard against this saddest of all physical defects.
